Letter from Pat

Dear Friends,

Happy Silver Anniversary! 2012 marks 25 years since the Society's formation, and we're still going strong. Past members of the Society's Board of Directors stay involved by giving us great ideas and suggestions, and everyone is so supportive of the P. Buckley Moss Foundation for Children's Education. It's wonderful having so many friends who care!

Save the date of July 20-21 for my Collectors' Convention, which will be held at the Riverside Casino and Golf Resort in Riverside, Iowa. We'll be doing something special for our Silver Anniversary that weekend, and I can hardly wait.

I'm also looking forward to our group land tour and seven-day cruise along the Alaskan Coast, which will take place July 26-August 5. (More details are available elsewhere in this issue.) This is going to be such fun—I've heard great things about the Tundra Wilderness Tour by train that precedes the cruise. I've never been to Alaska, and I'm really looking forward to this wonderful treat.

Come join this lovely group of friends. I know this will be one of our best years yet!

Love,

25 Years — and Going Strong

To honor our 25th anniversary, P. Buckley Moss Galleries, Ltd. is throwing two parties for us, and everyone is invited (members and non-members alike). In 1987 Ronald Reagan was the President, Michael Jackson was the King, a gallon of gas cost 89 cents—and the P. Buckley Moss Society was founded by small group of Moss collectors. By the end of the year, there were 3,810 charter members from all 50 states and five foreign countries. Come the year 2012, ours is one of the few remaining collectors' clubs. The extraordinary longevity of our club not only bears testimony to the enduring nature of Pat's art, but also to the bonds we fashion in the pursuit of our charitable endeavors. In large part, the success of the Society lies not only in our appreciation of Pat's art, but also in having a shared goal, that goal being to help others through the use of Pat's art. We all have something to work towards that is greater than the sum of all our individual parts, and this makes our Society vital and forward thinking.

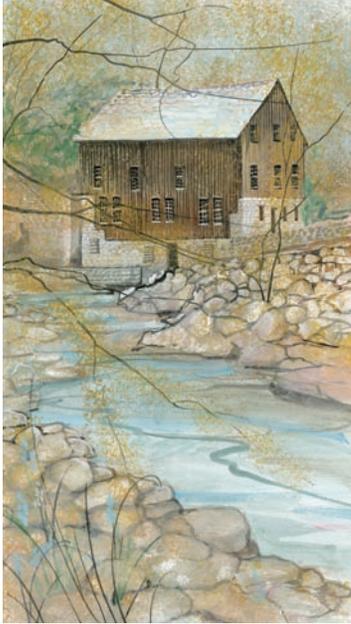

These birthday parties will take the familiar form of a dinner/dance and auction to benefit the P. Buckley Moss Foundation. We will be dressing things up a little to ensure a festive and fun occasion. More details will follow in the next Sentinel.

So, come join us as we celebrate our first 25 years at:

the stonework, and the lined-up masonry that makes up the foundation of the mill. With a few dashes of paint, Pat brings to life the free-flowing water (we can almost hear its lyrical motion) and contrasts this with the solid stasis of the building. These opposing elements are in balance, poised and in harmony—see how the man-made stonework seems to grow organically out of Nature, out of the rocks and the foliage.

Pat here has created a vision of man in harmony with Nature. The mill is the work of the hands of many men, hewn out of native rock and timber, and a symbol not only of man's labor, but of his bending Nature to his purpose. The flowing stream provides the motion and energy needed to grind the grain (grain which is itself the fruit of Nature, cultivated by man).

And so it is that Pat has taken a much loved Pennsylvania landmark and turned it into something so much more meaningful than itself, so that it holds appeal to all of us, whether or not we are familiar with the "real" mill itself.

About The Mill

For this year's adult membership giclée, Pat returns to one of her favorite subjects, McConnell's Mill in Moraine State Park, Butler County, Pennsylvania. While the mill itself has a real and distinct presence in time and place, (it was first constructed in 1852 and then rebuilt in 1868 after a fire), Pat's treatment of it is timeless and hints at something beyond the moment.

Pat takes the physical reality of the mill as a starting point and renders it in such a way as to encourage us to invest the scene with our own emotional response. In all of Pat's landscapes it is this emotional content that is more meaningful, more "real" than reality itself. Pat does not paint with the exactitude of a realist painter. She paints expressively. She merely nods at reality and asks us to see through it, to contemplate the very soul of her subject.

How would we describe this scene? Perhaps as "tranquil" or "peaceful" and "calming." These are emotions that we bring to the scene. Deeper than that, there is the harmony of balance. Pat contrasts the soft, smooth curves of the round rocks with the hard, lineal wooden boards of the mill, the straight borders of

Foundation Board Member Receives Buz Dawbarn Award

Boo Elkins, Preschool Family Service Advocate for Augusta County (Virginia) Schools, is also a member of the Board of Directors of the P. Buckley Moss Foundation for Children's Education and serves as the Board's Secretary. Boo was one of ten educators in the Shenandoah Valley chosen to receive the Dawbarn Education Award, which comes with a $10,000 prize.

The Dawbarn Education Awards celebrate and reward exceptional individuals in the Community of Staunton, Waynesboro, and Augusta County. Established in 1992 by H. Dunlop "Buz" Dawbarn, this fund aims to improve public education. Each year, the awards event honors educators who have demonstrated a commitment to inspiring, encouraging, and fostering the education of young people.

In her role as Preschool Family Service Advocate, Boo has helped meet families' needs. She has helped students' parents obtain housing, medical insurance, GED's, high school diplomas, and job training and has helped provide food and clothing assistance. For many years, she has given up weekends and holidays to work. Hundreds of families in the area have improved their chances at better lives due to Boo's dedication and ceaseless energy.

Congratulations, Boo! You are an inspiration to us all!

Reminder: 14th Annual Creative Mind Conference

The P. Buckley Moss Foundation for Children's Education is looking forward to its 14th Annual Creative Mind Conference, which will be held on Saturday, April 14, 2012, at the Holiday Inn and Conference Center in Staunton, Virginia. The theme will be "Reach 'em to Teach 'em: Engaging Students Who Learn Differently", and the fee is $90. Participants will earn eight hours of re-certification points for Virginia teacher licensure (graduate continuing education credits available for an additional fee).

Featured speakers include:
Ron Nash, author of the Corwin Press bestseller The Active Classroom and his latest book From Seatwork to Feetwork.

Dr. Deborah Carrington, Professor of Education at James Madison University, who focuses on development of creativity in the classroom.

Dr. Mwizenge Tembo, Professor of Sociology at Bridgewater College and nationally acclaimed African storyteller.

Dr. John Almarode, Education Professor at James Madison University and international presenter on how the student brain learns and how we can use that knowledge in our classrooms.

Sponsor a Teacher

So far, three Society chapters have committed to sponsoring a teacher to attend this year's conference: Moss on the Chesapeake, Pat's Blue Goose, and Moss Roses. The Foundation is most grateful!

If you or your chapter are looking for a worthy recipient of your giving program, consider sponsoring a local teacher to attend the conference. With ever-increasing cutbacks in education funding, there are fewer resources available to teachers to help cover the costs of their continuing education. Teachers attending the conference not only have to pay the $90 fee, but also travel and accommodation expenses. Your donation will benefit both the teacher in your own school district and the Foundation.

For more information, please contact the Foundation office at 540-932-1728 or e-mail foundation@mossfoundation.org.

Facebook Fun Winner

Our thanks go to all of you who participated in our Facebook Fun event. You changed your profile photo to a picture of you with your favorite Moss print and then posted the photo to the P. Buckley Moss Fan Club page. Every participant was entered into a drawing for a $25 gift certificate. We had so many responses, and so enjoyed reading your stories, that we extended the event to include the month of February, for which there will be a separate drawing on March 1st.

Facebook Winner: Karen Fitzgerald

At press time, we had one winner of the "January" $25 online gift certificate. Congratulations to Karen Fitzgerald, who posted a photo of herself with the print Listen Little Brother. Here is what she had to say: "My sister gave me this print for Christmas. I have cross-stitched several Moss prints, but never owned one until now. We visited the Moss museum and I picked out this print, Listen Little Brother, because it reminds me of my own two children."

By the time this Sentinel reaches you, we will have chosen another winner from the remaining participants. We'll post the winner's name on the Fan Club Page.

Here are some comments from other participants:

"Visit to the Principle 1991 was about the fifth Moss I purchased. I saw this in a shop in Carroll, IA and fell in love with it! There I was, with my signature braids, getting scolded once again by Sister Mary Louise." (Jane Hastings Schroer)

"It is hard to choose a favorite Moss print. This one is special because the weekend of the Moss show where I purchased it, we had a 15-month old red-head daughter become a part of our family. Her older sister was four, with light brown hair. When I saw this print, I knew we had to have it! Pat was gracious enough to add the girls' names to the top of the print." (Jeri Rodgers Beachy)

Jeri Rodgers Beachy

Gramz Meyer

"I have a P. B. Moss room. Most are gifts from my husband." (Gramz Meyer)

"Patty Nourse, a very special friend and Moss collector, died January 13th. Pat's All in the Tree was one of her favorite paintings. It was displayed at her visitation. Some of you will remember her well, especially from the early Springfield, Ohio, Moss Shows at Frame Haven Gallery." (Ginny Myers)

Perhaps Carol Parker Baden says it best: "This has been such fun...Pat paints those moments in our lives that mean so much to us, but that we could never capture ourselves, and now we can share those things with each other...love, marriage, children, grandchildren...even Red Hat Bears—which I LOVE!"

2012 Alaska Cruise

Pat is looking forward to our group land tour and seven-day cruise along the Alaskan Coast this year. Fifty-five people have signed up so far! The land tour portion runs immediately prior to the cruise, July 26-29, departing downtown Anchorage, where we'll board the McKinley Explorer train to Denali National Park, where we'll take the Tundra Wilderness Tour. On July 29, we will return to Seward in time to board ship for the cruise. The ship Zaandam, of the Holland America Line, will set sail from Seward (Anchorage) on July 29, 2012, visiting Glacier Bay, Haines, Juneau, and Ketchikan before passing through the Inside Passage to Vancouver, British Columbia, in Canada on August 5. An optional post-cruise excursion to Butchart Gardens in Victoria, Canada, is also available. The Gardens are on Victoria Island outside Vancouver, and this will be a day-trip involving taking a ferry boat over to the Island.

Space is still available for this exciting opportunity! If you're interested in joining Pat, and to obtain current rates, please contact Ada at Stacy's Travel, 12 E. Front St., Monroe, MI 48161; PH: 734-243-6330; or Stacystravel1@hotmail.com. Sul Ross Middle School
San Antonio, TX
Rebel Mural Project: $700

This is a hands-on artistic program, in which students engage in tactile, visual, and kinetic learning, using creative expression through most art forms. The program will empower students with self-confidence to communicate artistically by making a historical mark at Sul Ross Middle School.

Ms. Tonya Griffin
Gatewood PEEP, Newport News, VA
Creatively Yours Program: $500

This program provides students with developmental delays and sensory issues the opportunity to experience concepts of art. The students will develop or increase fine motor skills as well as hand-eye coordination.

Ms. Patricia Stoneback
Lehigh Learning and Adjustment School
Orefield, PA

Self-Motivated Learning & Community Service Project: $500

Students will participate in a reading program in which they may read novels of their choice. Each student will creatively illustrate and decorate a tapestry square depicting a scene from the novel. Additionally, students will write friendly letters to their peers in a local hospital, encouraging them to "snuggle up with a cozy blanket and a good book." The decorated squares will be quilted to form five blankets and donated to the hospital's children's ward, along with select copies of the books illustrated.

Ms. Jo-Lin D. Owens
West Irvine Elementary, Irvine, KY
Barn Quilt Art Program: $500

This program will help bring a piece of Appalachian culture/art to students in a project that allows them to learn about barn quilting first-hand from local artists. The Appalachian Barn Quilt Trail will be explored through the internet, pictures, and local newspapers featuring the Trail. Students will create their own quilt patterns using a variety of methods, including but not limited to painting, paper collage, and drawing with colored pencils.

Ms. Julie J. Carter
Center High School, King and Queen Courthouse, VA
Ceramics Project: $500

This project will allow students to see ceramic pieces at the DeWitt Wallace Decorative Arts Museum in Colonial Williamsburg, giving students a better idea of how functional ceramic pieces were created during Colonial times. The DeWitt Museum allows museum patrons to view in detail the process used to create Tory mugs and fine porcelain china. The students will return to school and create Tory mugs using the three ceramic hand building methods.

Fundraising activities included the sale of wine glasses and glass "cat" plates as well as a fundraising dinner with P. Buckley Moss and Canada Goose Gallery. During the fundraising dinner, a quilt incorporating Pat's hand-painted quilt centerpieces was auctioned, with half of the proceeds from the quilt benefiting GreeneBucs and the other half benefiting the P. In addition, the Chapter worked with the Housing Department of Louisa to build a ramp on the home of Nicholas William (the Chapter's 2010 fundraising recipient). Nicholas is confined to a wheelchair. The Housing Department provided the materials, and Chapter members and their husbands supplied the labor.

Billing by Automatic Renewal

Members have the option of giving the Society office their credit card information to keep on file for automatic renewal of their memberships. In the past, the Society office has billed all payments by automatic renewal at the same time. To spread the workload on the staff, starting this year, the Society office will bill automatic renewals during the same month as the annual renewal date. For example, if a member's annual renewal date is March 15, the member's credit card will be billed in the month of March, and their brooch and other renewal items will be shipped when they become available.

Those members who are signed up for automatic renewal should remember to call the Society office at 1-800-430-1320 to update their credit card information if it will expire before their renewal date.
